

MISS DEGNAN'S NEWSLETTER

FOR THE WEEK OF OCTOBER 31—NOVEMBER 4, 2016

Curriculum

Readers Workshop— This week students will hear the story I Was So Mad by Mercer Mayer. We will learn the vocabulary words allow, frustrated, decide and practice. Students have also started using Raz-Kids and are enjoying listening to all of the stories!

Writers Workshop— The class has completed each of the letters in the alphabet and will begin focusing on Being A Writer. Students will read the book City Signs and get to create their own classroom signs to hang around the room! We will also be talking and writing about places the students would like to go!

Math-

This week we will begin learning about repeating patterns such as A-B-A-B. Students will also continue to work on addition and subtraction story problems!

Theme— This week students will be talking about germs and graphing numbers!

Miss Degnan's Corner

As a reminder, our Kindergarten Halloween Party is from 1:45—2:45 on Monday, October 31st! Students will be allowed to wear their costumes during the party only, so please make sure to send your child's costume with them in their backpack or a bag on Monday! During the month of November we will be making a classroom turkey! I have sent home a paper feather and instructions on how to decorate the feather with your child! I am asking for the feathers to be sent back no later than Wednesday, November 9th!
